Graded Writing Assignment # 1
Human Origins
Narrative Writing Prompt

Directions: In a well developed three paragraph essay, please write a short narrative that describes the daily life of one (1) of the early hominids we have discussed. The first paragraph should include topic and thesis sentences. The second paragraph should contain at least three (3) correct details that describe the life of your hominid. Your examples should include their average diet, shelter and an advancement in human kind that enabled them to survive. The third paragraph will summarize your paper and will include a conclusion sentence.

Please note: You will be graded according to the rubric provided and will be given the ability to rewrite your narrative for a higher grade if you choose.
